Dear Mr Khanal,

I wish to express my sincere thanks for your contribution to the third edition of The GLOBE, INTERPOL's newsletter for police chiefs, which focused on Global Fugitive Investigations.

Your article explained how the Nepal Police and National Central Bureau in Kathmandu play a vital role in stopping fugitives wanted for cybercrime and human trafficking. This insight is of great value to our readership and also demonstrates your commitment to INTERPOL's work.

I would also like to thank you for the guidance and leadership you provide on a daily basis to your country's fugitive investigations. As you know, the INTERPOL Red Notice is the Organization's most powerful tool for identifying fugitives globally. NCB Kathmandu plays a critical role in the arrests of fugitives and bringing them to justice.

The GLOBE reaches not only police chiefs in our 194 member countries, but also ministry and senior law enforcement officials, national law enforcement and NCB staff. By sharing your experience and knowledge with our readership, you have helped raise global awareness of the different challenges faced in each country in tracking fugitives.

I thank you for your time and your support,

Yours sincerely,

Jürgen Stock
Secretary General
